

We depend on over the air reception for all of our televisions (6). We have satellite service, but local signals cost more, and reception of local signals during bad weather is more reliable, necessary during those times.